

embodiment paradigm condition
research representation group consciousness practice resource system learning empirical study dynamic cognitive attention extended cognition world model neural social mind radical music approach gesture body linguistic science brain idea framework language view nature memory interaction human role such process action effect development account musical theory understanding