

performance development theoretical theory system framework experiment perception study visual motor constraint patient gibson movement resource state decision memory individual action social research approach task psychology dynamic rule environment neural concept behavior group interaction activity tool learning participant control making field problem
mechanism response information structure situation design evolutionary sensorimotor